The
France - America Society
INCORPORATED

THE France-America Society was incorporated under the Membership Corporation Law of the State of New York, in October, 1912, first under the name of the France-America Committee, this being subsequently altered by due legal process to its present title. The Directors considered it politic to make the change in view of the fact that by 1916 the membership of the organization had attained such a growth that the word committee as used in English, had ceased to be a fitting designation.

The purpose of the Society is to foster the intimacy of the long-standing friendship between France and the United States, and to develop the relations between the two nations in all their social, political, artistic, commercial, industrial and intellectual interests.

With this object in view the Society devotes itself, in addition to its other activities, to the agreeable task of welcoming to the United States Frenchmen of distinction, who visit

America, and of bringing them into personal relations with those Americans who can best further their mission in this country, and who are in hearty sympathy with France.

In Paris, our parent society, the Comité France Amérique, founded and presided over by M. Gabriel Hanotaux, of the French Academy and for many years Minister of Foreign Affairs, performs similar services for eminent Americans who visit France, and the members of our Society are always welcomed there with the greatest regard and hospitality. Associated with President Hanotaux in the Comité France Amérique in Paris are some of the leading men in the public life of France.

In 1913 the Comité France Amérique despatched a special mission headed by its president to the United States, to take part in the tercentenary celebration of the birth of Champlain. It included among its members, M. Louis Barthou, former Premier and more recently Minister of Foreign Affairs, General Lebon, M. Rene Bazin and M. Etienne Lamy, both of the French Academy, Senator the Baron d'Etournelles de Constant, the Comte de Rochambeau, the Vicomte de Chambrun, etc., who brought with them, as a gift to the United States, Rodin's beautiful bust representing La France.

Our Society assumed charge of their reception and was able to arrange for their welcome in this country with becoming honor.

Since then it has fallen to the lot of the France-America Society to extend hospitality to a number of distinguished French visitors—statesmen, diplomats, generals, academicians, captains of finance and of industry, world famed composers, such as the venerable Saint Saens, while each year on the sixth of September the Society gives a banquet in celebration of the anniversary of the birth of Lafayette and of the great battle of the Marne, which banquets have been honored by the presence of the Ambassadors of France and of Great Britain, of the diplomatic representatives of the other Powers of the Entente, the Mayor of New York and by high dignitaries of the Federal, State and Municipal governments.

On the occasion of the last Lafayette-Marne dinner on the sixth of September, 1917, the following cable messages were received from the President of the French Republic, Premier Ribot, Marshal Joffre and from M. Gabriel Hanotaux.

From PRESIDENT POINCARÉ:

Pray assure to the France-America Society that I fully sympathize with the touching thought which associates the souvenir of Lafayette with that of the Marne. The blood shed in common by us, brothers in arms now as of old, will render indissoluble the tie uniting two nations who are not only allies but sisters.

POINCARÉ

From MARECHAL JOFFRE:

Kindly convey to the France-America Society my felicitations for its ardently patriotic work and propaganda, and my gratitude for the homage which it has addressed to the soldiers of the Marne. We are certain that with the powerful co-operation of the United States we shall overwhelm our common enemy in a final and conclusive victory.

J. JOFFRE

From M. ALEXANDRE RIBOT, Prime Minister of France:

Am profoundly touched by the sentiments which you have expressed in the name of the France-America Society on the occasion of the anniversary of the birth of Lafayette, and of the battle of the Marne. I beg of you to receive my most cordial thanks, and the expression of the profound attachment of my country for your great democracy which gives to the entire world an example of one of the most lofty moral conscience in all history in associating itself in the sacred defence of right and of liberty.

ALEXANDRE RIBOT

From M. GABRIEL HANOTAUX, of the French Academy:

Pray express to Ambassador Jusserand and to all your guests the loyal sentiments of your old friends in France, on the occasion of this double anniversary. The intervention of America in the war gives a new face to the history of the world worthy of this great nation, the magnificent champion of civilization and of liberty.

HANOTAUX

Through the generosity of A. Barton Hepburn, a former President and still a Director of the France-America Society, a suitable house at 411 West 117th Street was deeded to Columbia University as a centre of French influence, and as a permanent home for the administrative officers of this Society. There a library is being collected, and there information may be had with reference to all French matters that may interest Americans. There also hospitality is offered to the distinguished Frenchmen who visit us, who are thus made to feel that they are no longer strangers among us. The Assistant Secretary is in attendance at stated hours and members of the Society are always welcome.
